A LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR OF TRAINING

Greetings:

The Connecticut Fire Academy exists for the state's Firefighters to develop their skills and expand their knowledge. With the ever increasing speed of technology and its application, or impact, upon the fire service, we all need multiple sources of guidance and information.

That is why we bring you our seminar speakers from throughout the United States. They offer a varying perspective and bring geographic nuances to the forefront. For example, solar panels are just now being considered a significant hazard to New England/east coast firefighting actions. Actually, these devices have been encumbering firefighting operations in the Midwest/west coast for years.

Electric cars, roadside water meter scanners, and hand held computers (smart phones) are examples of a progressive society. How to appropriately use one of those devices is the subject of another seminar. Tracking the location of firefighters has become more possible with these pioneering inventions. Body telemetry for individual firefighters is now available.

Just because we can do something, does not mean that we should. That is the reason for research, differing viewpoints, discussion, debate, and an ultimate determination. Enjoy the technology within our new operating environment. But, as our future leaders, please gain as much education as you can prior to establishing a deep-rooted position.

Have you made a difference today?

Adam D. Piskura, Director
Connecticut Fire Academy

NEW ENGLAND
DISASTER TRAINING CENTER

The NEDTC is a joint collaboration bringing the states top training and response agencies together using state of the art facilities and equipment to provide challenging rescue scenarios for both the basic and advanced disaster response personnel.

Located at Camp Hartell, in Windsor Locks, Connecticut, the NEDTC will offer disaster medical response training, with the ability to work from a mobile field hospital, and search and rescue training on a rubble pile. Advanced trench and train derailment training props will be used to help response personal meet national standards.

Additional information about the NEDTC can be found at www.nedtc.us

Increasingly, students and instructors are bringing laptop computers to the Connecticut Fire Academy (CFA) especially for officer and instructor classes. The Commission on Fire Prevention and Control (CFPC) offers limited wireless hotspot access to the Internet in some areas of the CFA. This public service is currently available in the following locations: dorm rooms, auditorium, multipurpose room, and the classroom wing.

Users alone are responsible for security and maintenance of your equipment. The Academy cannot provide you with computer software, hardware, or technical support to include disks, printers, scanners, etc. CFPC/CFA staff is not permitted to support user connectivity issues or user computer issues of any type.
